Madonna High School Class of 2020 Graduates!

On Saturday, June 6, 2020, Madonna High School held its combined Baccalaureate Mass & Commencement Ceremony at St. Joseph the Worker Church. Covid-19 brought many unprecedented changes to 'end of school' rituals normally enjoyed by the graduating class of the Madonna family. However, as family does, the Blue Don graduates, outfitted with matching Madonna Logo face masks, adapted and overcame their unusual circumstances and joined together to offer thanksgiving at holy mass and graduate with a celebration for the record books.

Social distancing guidelines issued by both the Diocese of Wheeling-Charleston's Bishop Mark Brennan and West Virginia Governor Jim Justice were strictly followed inside of St. Joseph the Worker Church. Graduates sat with close family members in every other pew of the church. All were seated before mass began.

Once Madonna's designated pastor, the Very Rev. Dennis R. Scheulkens, Jr., V.E. began with the opening prayer, Kelsey Crawford, class president and valedictorian, welcomed all in attendance. Mass proceeded with the Introductory Rites followed by the Liturgy of Word when, in Fr. Dennis' homily, he reminded the graduates to live out Madonna's mission to be followers of Christ and leaders in the world. He encouraged them to a life of service that will lead them to peace in the way of Saint Mother Teresa of Calcutta. The Liturgy of the Eucharist will be remembered by these grads in a special way as the final time they celebrated the mass together as Blue Dons. Directly following the Prayer after Communion, but before the final blessing, the graduation ceremony began.

Graduation began with the Salutatory speech given by Carly Alyssa Dowiak, who suggested to her classmates that "the Class of 2020 will always be here," because "no other senior class can say they left without saying good-bye" making reference to how their senior year was brought to abrupt end with the school closure on March 13 due to the coronavirus. Next, Kelsey Ann Crawford delivered her Valedictory speech, reminding her classmates that they are extraordinary because they "were born in a time of fear and uncertainty" in the wake of September 11, 2001 and that when they were born their families "had hope for a bright future." She reminded them that they were born "to aspire to greatness." Finally, Lexus Jade Melnyk was called to give her Valedictory speech. Lexus thanked the families of her classmates because their decision to "put us into a Catholic school was exceptionally significant. This decision put us in an environment that is not only small and family-like, but also faith-filled." Lexus encouraged the Class of 2020 to "Dream big!"

The ceremony continued with Mrs. Amy Granato, Madonna college counselor, announcing both the scholarships and grants awarded to each member of the senior class and for each graduate to come forward to receive their diploma.

In a non-Covid-19 graduation year, Principal Jamie Lesho would enjoy the honor of conferring each diploma with a firm handshake. Because of social distancing protocol, he and Madonna's designated pastor, Very Rev. Dennis R. Scheulkens, Jr., V.E. were only able to look on as each graduate picked up her/his diploma from a table where the diplomas were displayed. To capture this momentous event, a photo was snapped with both the graduate's mask on and mask off - a first for Madonna grads to be sure. These unique photos will certainly be shared by the Class of 2020 for years to come.

Once all the diplomas were conferred and the newest Madonna alumni were back at their seats, a Madonna tradition continued whereby each graduate presents a flower to the person who represents the gift of Christ's loving sacrifice to them. The song "You Raise Me Up" made popular by Josh Groban was lovingly played by Rebecca Harding during the flower presentation.

Then, the Class of 2020 rose to their feet to sing the Alma Mater, be pronounced graduates by Fr. Dennis, and then joyfully toss their mortar boards into the air! Mass concluded with a final blessing, and was dismissed with the recessional hymn.

Congratulations to the Madonna High School class of 2020! The administration, staff, and faculty wish you all the best as you begin your new endeavors!

“Amid Pandemic, Madonna High School Carries On With Its Academic Promise”

They've been videoconferencing with their teachers via Zoom and Google Meet, taking online tests through the Castle Learning platform, holding threaded discussions with teachers and classmates via Google Chat, and videotaping prayer and morning announcements to be posted on Madonna's social media pages.

Madonna High School has embraced online education, making a smooth transition to virtual learning in order to complete the academic year without missing a beat.

When Madonna High School closed its doors to traditional learning on March 13, 2020, in the wake of the COVID-19 pandemic, Madonna Principal Jamie Lesho, with the assistance of the Department of Catholic Schools, quickly developed a plan on how to most efficiently continue to provide its students with the best education possible. Within days, Madonna's distance learning program was up and running. The fact that Madonna High School initiated a 1:1 Chromebook program in 2017 has proved to be a crucial component in Madonna's distance learning endeavor - one that has enabled its students not to miss a day of instruction since March 16th.

Madonna teachers have stepped up to embrace this new virtual learning environment and have made themselves available through email and one-on-one video conferencing. One parent mentioned how impressed she was that teachers have been available not only during the day, but also in the evenings and even on weekends to help answer questions. The staff and administration have also made every effort to stay in contact with students and parents through email and phone calls, especially when a student may need a little push to complete assignments.

Here's a quick glance at what the new virtual learning environment entails for the students at Madonna.

In the Math Department, the teachers have been incorporating a variety of methods, including videotaped lessons, online textbook resources, Khan Academy, and virtual classes through Google Meet to provide instruction in mathematics. Students connect with teachers virtually several times a week to go over homework problems and discuss any questions students may have. In Speech Class, the students have been using their Chromebooks to record their speeches and then turn them in to be assessed. Students have also been creating presentations for Social Studies classes by using Google Slides. English teachers have been using Google Meet both to answer students' grammar and literature questions and to hold one-on-one writing conferences with the students in order to provide them with guidance as they work on their various writing assignments. The Science Department has also utilized Google Meet for class instruction. Chemistry and Physics classes have continued weekly labs, and the students have been given all of the materials needed for the week. Meanwhile, Biology and Physical Science classes are using virtual learning tools to complete their end-of-year projects.

Some programs that Madonna teachers in other departments have utilized to provide instruction include Duolingo, Castle Learning, Khan Academy, AP Classroom, Davidson Next (an AP Macroeconomic program) and Zoom. The Yearbook staff has also been able to continue to work on producing a yearbook because of the on-line software that is already in place for that class.

The adjustment to distance learning has entailed complications at times, but these complications have been addressed as they occur. For example, when some students encountered Chromebook problems, the schools IT department sent their Chromebooks out to be fixed and loaned others out to the students for use in the interim. When a few students experienced emotional trouble during this time, both Mr. Lesho and our school counselor, Mrs. Erin McFarland, stepped in to speak with them. When the entire AP Exam process was altered because of the pandemic, the College Guidance Office kept the Madonna AP students up to date with their classes so that all are prepared to take the alternative AP Exams from home this year.

Another of the challenges the teachers and administration faced in implementing the distance learning program involved working out teaching schedules among the staff in a way that avoided duplication of teaching time. To meet this challenge, Mr. Lesho created a shared schedule for teachers to use. This form provides a record that shows when individual teachers are scheduled to host a class, conduct a review, or give a test. That way, all staff members are aware of the plan for the week and can coordinate their efforts to ensure that the workload for students is balanced throughout the week.

Meanwhile, the faculty have focused not only on teaching students during this time but also on continuing their own education. Many have taken advantage of professional development webinars offered by the Diocese, ensuring they stay on top of their training and development.

As is true in other schools all over the country, this time has been especially challenging for the seniors at Madonna. To address their concerns, the administration has remained extremely focused on helping the Senior Class in their last few weeks as students. The seniors and their families have been sent communications every Friday throughout the quarantine to keep them abreast of new developments. The College Placement Office has been busy helping seniors prepare for their next step after high school by making arrangements for students to pick up and drop off scholarship applications, college applications and transcripts during designated times.

As the school year comes to an end, the administration, faculty, parents, and students continue to work together to make the best of this unusual situation. By using their Chromebooks, the students have been able to register for the next academic year and choose their classes through the creation of grade level appropriate Google forms. This way, the students and their parents are able to feel a sense of direction as they continue with their academic careers. Students have appreciated the ease of the registration process, and one student even mentioned that signing up for classes has made him excited for next school year.

Students, faculty, staff, and administration are all looking forward to continuing the progress in educational innovation that Madonna has engaged in during this past year. Madonna's groundbreaking progress in cutting-edge instruction was, in fact, recognized nationally when Madonna garnered a prestigious award from Today's Catholic Teacher Magazine for "Innovations in Catholic Education in Curriculum and Instruction". This award was presented to Madonna for establishing a new program designed to help students achieve academic excellence in the areas of Healthcare, Business, Engineering, and Pre-Law. The course of study in this program utilizes a combination of secondary core courses, community college courses, AP classes, and Massive Open Online Courses (MOOCs) to achieve the educational objectives. The program also requires each student to do an internship in his or her respective field. The 2020-2021 school year will be the second of this program's existence, and its effectiveness will only continue to grow.

We are accepting new students for the 2020-2021 school year. Application packets can be mailed to interested families. Please contact the office at 304-723-0545 to receive an application packet or to ask any questions. One Mission One Day to Make a Difference

The Diocese of Wheeling-Charleston assisted its Catholic schools in planning a 24 hour giving day. This was the second year of Madonna High School participating and our supporters really raised the bar this year. In 2019, One Mission One Day raised $2,100 from 44 donors and that was matched for a total of $4,200. In 2020, our number of donors more than tripled with 153 gifts and the total was $24,825! The generous donations given helped provide financial assistance to 15 of our families affected by COVID-19.

We are so thankful for all our alumni, families, and friends that see the benefit of a Catholic education!

Save the date for next year's One Mission One Day on May 4, 2021.

Students share their thanks for gifts made to Madonna High School.

Madonna High School Aquinas Award and St. Sebastian Medal Winners

Ava Loch is the 2020 Aquinas Award recipient from Madonna High School. Ava was selected as the award winner by the faculty of Madonna High School. The award recognizes students for their outstanding qualities of faithful discipleship, academic excellence, leadership and service to the school, parish and community, reflecting the ideals of Catholic education epitomized by St. Thomas Aquinas, the patron saint of students. It is the highest honor a student can receive from the diocese. She would have received her award today at the annual Catholic Schools Dinner in Morgantown.

Ava is the daughter of Robert Loch and Katherine Lecker, and twin sister to Isabel Loch. She is an active member of St. Joseph the Worker Church. She lettered on the Lady Dons Soccer team the last two years and was captain her senior year. She has also danced competitively at Center Stage Dance for 9 years. Ava is the President of Prayer Club and Co-President of the Interact Club. She participates in Lend-A-Hand, sings in the school choir, and is a member of the Diocesan Youth Board. She has had two poems published through The American Library of Poetry and Appelley Publishing. She was inducted into the National Honors Society during her Junior year. Ava plans to attend Allegheny College, where she will major in Chemistry and minor in Global Health Studies.

Carly Dowiak and Brennan Secrist, were selected to receive the St. Sebastian Medal from the Diocese of Wheeling Charleston. The St. Sebastian Medal is named for St. Sebastian, who is the Patron Saint of Athletes because he was always depicted in fine physical shape. Carly and Brennan were recognized for being high-achieving student athletes and exhibiting the qualities of sportsmanship, teamwork, academics, and a high respect for school, classmates, teammates, opponents, parish and the community.

Carly is the daughter of Joseph and Patty Dowiak, and the sister of Cameron Dowiak. She is the Student Body Vice President. Carly is a member of the Interact and SADD Clubs. She was inducted into the National Honor Society last year and is currently the Secretary. She has been a member of the cheer, volleyball and track & field teams. Carly is a four time State medalist, has placed 5th at States in the 200m dash three times and is a 2-time OVAC 1A champion in cheer. During her time at Madonna she was named to the All-Valley Volleyball team. Next year, Carly will major in Biological Sciences with a concentration in Biochemistry and be on the cheer squad at the University of Pittsburgh.

Brennan is the son of Mark and Mary Secrist and the brother of Ethan Secrist. He is a member of the Art and Interact Clubs. He is a two year letterman of the football, basketball, and track & field teams and was named Captain of each team this year. He placed 2nd at OVAC 1A and 5th at States in the 110m hurdles his Junior year. During his senior year he has been named to the All-State football team, the OVAC All-Star basketball team, OVAC 1A basketball First Team, All -State Honorable Mention in basketball, the All-Valley Second Team in basketball. Brennan will major in Business Management and play football at Marian University in Indianapolis.

Madonna in the Community

The Interact Club volunteered to help the American Legion place flags on veterans' graves over Memorial Day weekend. Mr. Heckathorn and Mr. Eloi accompanied Gabby Green, Madalena Daugherty, Alexis DeMarco, Dominic DeMarco, Kristina Lesho, Adriana Lenhart, Michaela Battista, Miranda Sole, Rylie Cottrill, Casey Yacos, Kelsey Crawford, and Josh Gasvoda.

Mr. Heckathorn asked his students to go outside to celebrate Earth Day. Sydney Crawford and Krista Velegol (taking picture), walked around their neighborhood to pick up litter.

Indoor Practice Facility

This project started around four years ago when a group led by Luke Myers (Class of '03) started exploring the idea of turning a dormant warehouse, on land owned by Starvaggi Industries Inc., into an indoor practice facility for Madonna High School. A small group of volunteers began clearing out trees that had overgrown the building. During that same time, the group reached out to past alumni and friends of Madonna High School about the idea. This led to both financial and in-kind volunteer support from numerous sources. The Diocese of Wheeling-Charleston and an anonymous donor were the two biggest contributors to the fundraising effort.

After several years of working diligently and dealing with road bumps along the way, there is now a first-class facility to offer to the students at Madonna High School. Outfitted with new LED lighting, baseball-themed walls, a batting cage, and turf, the 8000 square foot building will serve as the primary indoor practice facility for the Madonna Baseball and Softball teams. It will also provide for additional practice space to the other Madonna High School and Catholic grade school teams when needed. Individualized hitting, catching, fielding, and pitching lessons plan to be offered for a fee to those looking to improve their skills. There will also be the opportunity to rent out the facility for team practices. There are talks to have advertising space located inside the facility to help off-set operating and maintenance costs.

In order to thank those that had a hand in making this happen, we plan on honoring them with their names on the wall inside the facility. To those people that believed in and helped with this long-shot idea, we are eternally grateful!

This facility fills a void that was lacking at Madonna High School as well as in the Weirton area in general, causing parents to travel outside of the area for their kids to practice in the winter months. We are proud to have this in Weirton and to be able to offer this to our current and future students.

Phase II planning of the project is already underway and will involve a buildout of the current structure. The buildout will consist of restrooms, a welcoming area, as well additional batting cages and workout area. For anyone looking to donate time or financials towards this phase of the project, please contact either the school directly or Luke Myers at 304-797-5245 or lmyers@starvaggi.com.

Thaiddeus Dillie '16, received West Virginia University's highest student honor by joining this year's class of the Order of Augusta. The Order of Augusta recognizes the students' superior scholarship, demonstrated leadership and record of community and public service. Ted graduated with a degree in biochemistry (ASBMB track) and a minor in business administration. He served as a student ambassador for the Division of Student Life, peer mentor for the WVU Honors College and Student Government Association representative for the Davis College of Agriculture, Natural Resources and Design.

Lea Colantonio '17, is an upcoming senior at West Virginia University majoring in Biochemistry. Lea has maintained a 4.0 GPA average through her years at WVU. She has also recently started her own research project at Ruby Memorial Hospital in Morgantown, WV.

The research project is titled "Plasma Glutamate Levels in Post Stroke Depression." Lea started this research project in dedication to her grandmother Rosemarie Colantonio, who passed away in May of 2016 due to years of illness from stroke and Alzheimer's disease. The project was started in 2019 with the help from the Neurology Department, Dr. Amelia Adcock and Dr. Jessica Frey, in order to understand the pathogenesis of post stroke depression, which is not extremely well understood.

The focus of the study is to investigate if there is a correlation between higher plasma glutamate levels in an individual's blood subsequent to an ischemic stroke with the onset of depression. In addition to examining the amino acid glutamate, a level of knowledge and understanding will be gained on the principle of post stroke depression in efforts to improve quality of life of the patient following the incident of a stroke. Lea believes that, "Post-stroke depression is a prominent mental disease that needs to be taken seriously by physicians and the individuals that have been diagnosed. The prevalence of this disease is substantial, and the impact on patient recovery could be significantly expedited with a clear understanding of the pathogenesis of the disease itself."

Kristen Tunno Orndoff '12, recently won the Mrs. International Pennsylvania Pageant. She competed in the Mrs. International Pageant July 24-25th in Tennessee.
